THE BULLETIN:

BY EDWARD H. BRITTON.

SECOND EDITION.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Thursday Morning, Feb. 19, 1863.

[TELEGRAPHED FOR THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Confederate Congress.

The Senate concurred in the House amendment to the Senate bill authorizing the issue of bonds for funding the Treasury Notes. The 3d Section of the Act provides that these bonds shall be issued to the amount of a hundred million dollars, and shall be filled at the pleasure of the Government. They shall be redeemable, however, at the expiration of five years. The exemption bill was further considered until adjournment.

From New Orleans.

MOBILE, Feb. 18.
The Advertiser & Register has a dispatch from Jackson, dated the 15th, acknowledging the receipt of the N. O. Picayune of the 13th inst. which says the Delta has been suppressed in consequence of the publication of objectionable articles. It has been superseded by the Era, a new paper.
It is reported that Gen. Banks was shot at from a window. The Delta office says an officer carelessly threw some explosive cartridges from the window, and they exploded.
The Bank of Louisiana was destroyed by fire on the 13th inst.
The Delta mentions a rumor that Gen. Butler was shot by J. E. Bouleynay. Grant has suppressed the Chicago Times in this army.
The Federals are making good headway at Yazoo Pass, but ample efforts it is believed are being made to arrest their further progress.

From the United States.

Northern dates to the 16th has been received.
Sir Robert Peel had been speaking on the American question and expressed the hope that the American States would ultimately become separated from each other. He condemned as odious and abominable the Proclamation of Lincoln, which emancipated the slaves in the Rebel States.
Only rumors of contingent recognition by Napoleon are ventilated by the London press.
The Manchester Guardian hears of a difficulty between the British government and the Cabinet at Washington, relative to the seizure of a British vessel in the Bahamas.
The London Times says perhaps at no time during the war was fortune declared so decidedly against the North over the whole area of military operations.
Northern war news unimportant.
An order has been issued prohibiting the circulating of newspapers in the army of the Potomac.
Vallandigham in a speech at Newark said that 75 out of every 100 men of the Northwest are in favor of a cessation of hostilities and the commencement of the experiment of restoring the Union by Constitutional and peaceful measures. Towards the close of his speech he asked, will you send your sons again to the battle field? Overwhelming cries of no! never!

The Northwestern States—Good News if True.

In our telegraphic column this morning will be observed the remarkable announcement that the Legislatures of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and Kentucky, will convene in Frankfort on the 18th of this month, to adopt measures looking to peace, the establishment of a commercial alliance, and possibly a Union with the Southern Confederacy.
While implicit confidence may not be attached to this statement, there are certain reasons why the truth is more than probable.

First. It is generally credited that a lady—the wife of a distinguished Western Senator, known to be a strong sympathizer with our cause—has been recently escorted to Richmond by General Price. His presence, of itself, an endorsement of at least the importance of her mission, and gives weight to the belief that she is empowered as an unofficial representative to lay before our Government certain serious propositions for its consideration.
Secondly. We have been assured from a variety of private, and we believe reliable, sources, that the Government has lately come in possession of information which is regarded with infinitely more satisfaction than would be the news of recognition by a foreign Power. That information is probably not ripe enough to be yet given to the public with official sanction, and, like much other valuable intelligence during the war, has reached us through Federal sources.

Finally. The recent speeches of Senators Turpin and Richardson, in which they denounce Lincoln as a tyrant, and call him by a variety of hard names, indicates strongly that the sentiment of the North west is in a condition that may at any moment burst into a whirlwind. An acute politician like Richardson, who in a long experience has learned to trim his sails to every breeze, would not dare to stand on the floor of the Senate and talk open treason if conviction did not amount to certainty that the hearts, and if necessary the bayonets, of his constituents were ready to back his sentiments. The consistent opposition of Vallandigham and Olds in Ohio, the antagonism to the Administration in all the States in the West, moral as well as physical, have developed a feeling among the people that no doubt has at last shaped itself into a legalized effort to put an end to the war, to tear down before its fall, the fabric that now threatens to crush them in its ruins, and to build up a brighter and more glorious Union on a constitutional basis such as our forefathers created, and of which our own glorious Confederacy is the only true type and representative.

Taking into consideration these facts, we attach some credit to our dispatches. Should they turn out to be false, however, they are but the precursors of others, which before long we feel assured will gladden the hearts of all who pray for peace. While we doubt whether the "Legislatures" of the Western States have progressed far enough in the right direction to take a united step, the spirit of the people is stirring, and once in motion their cries for a settlement of our difficulties will sweep over the land in a wave that will break before no rock of opposition. —Charleston Courier.

It is stated to be the intention of the general commanding the Mississippi department to permit persons who relinquish service in the Federal army to return to their homes.

NEW PARIS STYLES!—NEW PARIS STYLES!!

WE would call the particular attention of the Ladies to our MILLINERY DEPARTMENT, which is presenting a great variety of attractive styles. Our Bonnet Frames are of the latest and most approved Paris styles. Our Own Importation. Our stock of Materials is the largest and best assorted and selected in the Confederacy.
The whole department is under the immediate supervision of our Head Milliner, Miss Kerr, late of Charleston, a lady of acknowledged refined taste; the press of business in the line has compelled us to make an addition to our force of Milliners and we have been most fortunate in the selection of Miss Hogan—also of Charleston. Having now, such a fine stock and so large a force to work it up, we will be enabled to fill any order with dispatch.

By the Governor of North Carolina.

A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas, it has been made to appear to me that the terms of the Proclamation issued by me on the 26th ultimo, for the benefit of those members of our army who are absent from their colors without proper leave, may not have been known to all who might have desired to avail themselves of its merciful provisions in time for them to do so.
Now therefore, I, ZEBULON B. VANCE, Governor of the State of North Carolina, do issue this second Proclamation, extending the time limited in the former to the 5th day of March next. All such persons as above referred to, who shall have reported to their several camps by that day, will suffer no punishment for their past delinquency. To those who shall not have so reported, nothing can be promised except the severest penalties of the military law.

In witness whereof, I, Zebulon B. Vance, Governor, Captain General and Commander in Chief, have signed these presents and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed.
Done at our city of Raleigh, this 12th day of February, A. D. 1863, and in 87th year of our Independence.
By order of the Governor,
Z. B. VANCE.

CHARLOTTE.

Wednesday Morning, Feb. 13, '63.

We have been requested to state that this day being Ash Wednesday, there will be Holy Communion held in the Episcopal Church.

Valuable Property for Sale.

Attention is called to the advertisement to be found in another column offering for sale the residence of Dr. J. M. Miller, at public auction. Those wishing to invest their capital in valuable property would do well to attend the sale.

Congratulatory.

We are pleased to learn that Messrs. Young, Waiston & Orr, by recent arrivals at Charleston, from Europe, have a large consignment of machinery and material safely landed for manufacturing purposes.

Mr. J. S. Phillips, Merchant Tailor, is also one of the fortunate and will be enabled, through his enterprise and energy, to supply the wants of his many friends.

We congratulate the above named gentlemen upon their good luck.

From Tennessee.

Various rumors of the enemy's movements in Tennessee are afloat. One report says Rosecrans has been reinforced, another that he is preparing to fall back into Kentucky. The only retrograde movement made by the enemy seems to be from Nashville. General Morgan's scouts dashed through the village on the 11th inst., but found no Federals. They had broken up their camp and retraced their steps to the main army. This would incline one to believe that Rosecrans is massing his troops for an advance on Shelbyville. The roads in Middle Tennessee are in a wretched condition.

There is a skirmishing daily in front of our lines. Heavy cannonading was heard at Winchester on Sunday, the 8th inst. A gentleman from the scene of action states that the enemy, who had been delayed by the late rain, are now advancing slowly, and that a battle will probably take place within the next ten days.

The Tennessee Bulletin says: "Our position to meet the enemy seems to have been well selected, and our troops are in fine spirits, but we must strain every nerve for the fray, and make this the decisive battle of the West. We have no positive information that the Abolitionists have been reinforced, but we feel assured that their leaders will not be so 'fool hardy' as to advance unless he has overwhelming numbers."

The bridge over the Watauga, lately destroyed by Carter's cavalry, has been rebuilt. The work was finished, and the train passed over it on Tuesday.

The work on the Holston bridge, at Zollicoffer, is progressing rapidly under the energetic superintendence of that prince of bridge-builders, A. L. Maxwell, Jr., and it is expected that it will be finished by the first of March.

From Fort Hudson.

We find the following items from the Point Coupée Echo, of the 4th inst.:

Three negro regiments are doing garrison duty at Fort Jackson, St. Philip and Pike.

The Yankees below have been for some time stealing large quantities of corn from the people on the opposite side of the river, and succeeded in getting quite a large quantity in one pile. Some of our boys hearing of it determined to reconnoiter the neighborhood, and, if an opportunity presented, to destroy the ill gotten grain of the Yankees. Upon arriving at the place, they found the corn unguarded, and quietly applying the torch, put in a blaze about five thousand bushels of corn. The flames attracted the Federals, but they arrived too late to save their plunder.

The river has been rising at a very rapid rate for the past two weeks, and if it continues another week it will be out of its banks. The water is already running through the crevasses at Mr. Chin's place, in west Baton Rouge, and in a day or two it will be through the Lobdell crevasses.

An Irish View of Mr. Lincoln and the War.

Now and then we get a glance at the opinion across the water of Mr. Lincoln and his administration. A late number of the Boston News Letter, an Irish newspaper, has a scathing rebuke of the Yankee President and the Yankee people. Alluding to Mr. Lincoln and his emancipation proclamation, it says:

"If Mr. Lincoln were a Brahmin we could understand him, for the religion of the Brahmin teaches him that his sins and shortcomings are not to be regarded as those of common men. The law promulgated by Mr. Lincoln is that of Men, which declares that the Brahmin is entitled to all that exists in the universe by his progenitors and eminence of birth."

This article (Yankee claims sovereignty under from State Island to the Rocky Mountains. He cannot bring his mind to the contemplation of the indisputable fact that he is a very humble person after all, and that, in all human probability, he will return to his native obscurity in a few short months and leave behind him nothing but a name infamous for all time.

His emancipation proclamation is nothing more nor less than a premium for murdering men and outraging women. It is the most odious and atrocious, barbaric and cowardly vindictive deed that ever emanated from a Pagan or 'Christian' tyrant. The authors of it, and the 'Christian' people who approve it are more debased than the heathen savages of the Fijian Islands, and if the great powers of Europe do not step in to prevent
